The KLEI™ Classic Harmony banana by HL

Once I received them I had the KLEI™ Classic Harmony Bananas soldered to my speaker cable and wow how good are these bananas.

With no hours on them, while listening to my jazz LPs, the wind instruments are more realistic, there is more definition/separation to soundstage, and cymbal strikes are startlingly realistic. If this can get better then I look forward to them breaking in. Quite honestly, if the present improvement was all that was to be had then I am already happy with the cost.

Now that the bananas have broken in loads more I am loving these bananas. There is more detail and a greater sense of actual musicians in my living room. I thought something had gone wrong with the soundstage but soon realised that the speakers had disappeared causing this false impression. The thing I find difficult to describe is the way notes float around the room. I have a copy of Jamal at the pershing which always sounded veiled and badly recorded but now sounds glorious and completely live - stunning!!!

The added realism to the bass register with super accurate drum strikes, much more realistic double bass notes, and a major palpability to the bass, greatly advances the realism of music (you might guess the majority of my listening is to jazz). I agree with previous reviews that the volume is increased, ie. 12 o'clock on amp dial now has the volume of the previous 3 o'clock position.

Everyone should buy some of these!!!! ... HL 😊😊😊

A highly recommended product
